

GUN TOTER GETS 100 DAYS AT FARM

Robert Helton, of Bedford, Taken in B. & O. S-W. Yards and Given Heavy Sentence.

$90 AND COSTS, SAYS MAYOR

Train Rider Learns to His Sorrow, That Carrying Guns is Costly Practice in Seymour.

Robert Helton, of Bedford, was up before Mayor Ross late Wednesday evening on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, and was given a fine of $90 and costs, which is in keeping with the previous heavy penalties handed out in the Mayor's court to those who violate this statute. Helton, in company with another young fellow whom he said was his brother-in-law, was taken in custody about four o'clock in the afternoon in the B. & O. yards by Chief of Police McCord, Detective Barclay, of the B. & O. S-W., and Captain Nutter, of the Pennsylvania Lines police department, who happened to be at the police station at the time.

Barclay had warned the two men at Mitchell to keep off of No. 2, but they managed to get aboard, and jumped off as the train was coming into this city. Barclay, who was on the train, telephoned the local police for assistance, as he had been informed they were carrying guns and would not hesitate to use them. McCord and Nutter responded and the three officers searched the yards and finally came upon the men at the extreme east end of the yards, near the Greeman furniture factory. Helton was carrying a package containing a suit of overalls, in which was concealed a 32-caliber revolver, and the officers stated that he made a movement as if to draw the gun from the package, but Chief McCord stuck a gun in his face and he changed his mind.

The two men were taken to the police station and searched, but no other weapon was found. Helton denied having attempted using the gun, but the officers were of the opinion that he would have used it had he been given half a chance. As there was no charge against the other party except that of train riding, he was allowed to go.

In the city jail this morning Helton said this was the first trouble he had ever been in, and claimed he was on his way to Cincinnati where he had a good job awaiting him, and seemed to be taking his trouble very much to heart. He disclaimed any intention of committing any crime, but admitted he was foolish in taking the gun along with him.

He was taken to Putnamville today by Sheriff Robertson, where he will have the opportunity of studying the latest improved methods of agriculture at the state penal farm for the next one hundred days.

Neighbors Quarrel.

On complaint of a neighbor who claimed she had been harassed with abusive and insulting remarks, Mrs. Alice Goens was arraigned on a charge of provoke, and, after admitting the charge, was given a fine of $1.00 and costs, which were stayed.

OFFICER LOOKING FOR WITNESS HERE

Deputy Sheriff John W. Burns Here From Columbus Trying to Find Frank Gaston.

WANTED FOR WINFREY TRIAL

Defendant Charged With the Murder of Robert Sample at Grammer Last May.

John W. Burns, deputy sheriff of Bartholomew county, was here today trying to locate Frank Gaston, of Grammer, who will be the chief witness for the state against William O. Winfrey, charged with the murder of Robert Sample at Grammer last May. A report has been received from Columbus to the effect that unless Gaston is located within the next few days the trial will be postponed until the term of the Bartholomew circuit court. The trial was originally set by Judge Wickens for this term of court. It is now set for trial for September 27.

Gaston is reported to have told the authorities several important circumstances concerning the death of Sample who was found in his home by neighbors. Following the murder Gaston was taken in custody by the local officers at the request of the Bartholomew county authorities but was able to show that he was not implicated in the crime.

According to the reports Gaston is said to have stated that Winfrey told him that he and Sample had been together on the night of Sample's death at Sample's house. He said Winfrey told him he and Sample had been talking about a fence and that suddenly Sample jumped up and grabbed a shot gun and pointed it towards him. Winfrey is alleged to have stated that he grabbed the barrel of the gun and directed it away from his body just before the trigger was pulled. Winfrey was in danger of being killed, he is said to have told Gaston, and hit Sample over the head with a carpenter's plane.

Gaston was seen by Winfrey the following morning and was asked to go to the Sample home and see how badly Sample was hurt. Gaston was seen to come from the house and it was for that reason that he was held here a short time. Gaston said that when he told Winfrey that Sample was dead, Winfrey asked him to say nothing about it. Winfrey will plead self-defense, it is stated.

When the case was called for trial at this term Gaston could not be located and the attorneys for the defense and prosecution were unable to agree on the admission of Gaston's testimony. Judge Wickens said that if the attorneys would agree on this or Gaston could be found the trial might be held during the latter part of the term and if not it would be postponed until the next term.

A special venire of forty men will not be used.

No, They Were Not "Night Riders," Just H. S. Students

"What is that, a band of 'night riders' from the hills of Kentucky?" queried a traveling man last night as he chanced to pass the corner of Second and Chestnut streets as a crowd of boys with their faces blackened chased through the street.

"No, I don't believe they're night riders," replied his companion, "Indiana won't allow them inside the state."

Just then the crowd took after a lad who was returning from a "date" with his girl and when he was captured he was put through a process which left his face streaked with black. He shook himself together good naturedly, whispered something in the ear of the leader and pointing down West Second street said, "He'll be coming up here in a minute. I just left him." The crowd then dispersed and the several members went in waiting for another "victim."

An explanation of the above is that high school enthusiasm or "spirit" is manifesting itself again. Class fights have been tabooed by the faculty, so the enthusiasm of youth is demonstrating itself in another way.

The entire high school, speaking of course, of the boys—are taking part in the nightly raids. Each boy carries a handful of black paste which is liberally smeared over the face of may victim who happens to come inside the danger zone. And, from the number of boys in the crowd practically the entire city was in that zone last night. The victims are only members of the high school.

Some of the lads think the treatment is a little rough but make no complaint aloud. Last night several of the boys who had escaped the "gang" during the earlier part of the evening were located before they reached home. Some of them tried to avoid the crowd but were searched out of alleys and other places with the aid of search lights.

No particular name has been given the "game" and some of the lads say that the raids will continue until every boy in the high school has had his face blackened.

WOULD BE SUICIDE IS GREATLY IMPROVED TODAY

Mrs. Leota Abernathy Denies She is Woman to Whom Louis Emhuff Referred After Taking Acid.

Louis Emhuff, who attempted to end his life Wednesday afternoon by drinking carbolic acid, is out of danger and was able to leave his room today. The prompt use of antidotes was doubtless responsible for his speedy recovery. While his throat and mouth are somewhat burned by the poison, it is believed that the acid must have been diluted with water or some other substance before he swallowed it.

Mrs. Leota Abernathy denies that she is the woman to whom Emhuff referred when he said "go tell her I did it," after draining the vial. She says Emhuff is only a friend with whom she has been acquainted for a number of years and the only time she sees him is when he comes into the store as a customer. Mrs. Abernathy is a highly respected woman of excellent character and her reputation is above reproach.

NEW DEHLER STORE TO BE FORMALLY OPENED TOMORROW

Handsome South Chestnut Street Shoe Shop to be Dedicated With Music, Flowers and Souvenirs.

Music, flowers and souvenirs will mark the formal opening of the handsome new shoe store of J. V. Dehler on South Chestnut street, next to the Seymour National Bank, which will occur Friday afternoon and evening. Mr. Dehler and his force of clerks are busy today making arrangements for the event and expect to entertain hundreds of visitors during the hours from two until five in the afternoon and from seven until nine in the evening. No goods will be sold during the opening and everyone is cordially invited to call and inspect the new store and fixtures. An orchestra will play during the evening hours.

The new store, with its attractive display windows and interior arrangements, has attracted the attention and elicited the admiration of all who have seen it and it is expected that large crowds will take advantage of the opportunity of inspecting it tomorrow during the formal opening.

CELEBRATION IS BEING DISCUSSED

Number of Merchants and Citizens in Favor of Holding Agricultural Exhibit.

BARBECUE IS SUGGESTED

Matter will Likely be Brought Before Merchants' Association and Commercial Club Soon.

Plans looking towards an agricultural exhibit and probably a barbecue in this city next month have been tentatively discussed by a number of merchants and citizens who favor some sort of a celebration here this fall. Nothing definite has been done towards holding such a display, but if one is agreed upon it is assured that it will be in keeping with the other celebrations that have been held here.

It has been suggested that it be a county affair and that arrangements be made for the display of corn, wheat and other farm products. If a celebration is held it will have to be sometime after the middle of October as the farmers will not have their fall work completed before that time.

Next month the Farmers' Club will celebrate its first anniversary and it has been proposed by several that the celebration center about that institution. It will be remembered that the big fall festival last year was arranged for because of the completion of the building and the week was one of the most successful ever held here. The festival attracted immense crowds each day and on one night over eight hundred people, accompanied by a band, came from Columbus.

The Merchants' Association, which would probably have to take the initiative in any celebration movement, has not discussed the proposition and the suggestions thus far have only come from the individual members. It is likely, however, that it will be discussed at some length at the next meeting. It will also be taken up with the Commercial Club whose co-operation will be necessary.

It is known that the county agent, A. D. Cobb, will assist all he can in any agricultural display. He would be able to offer many valuable suggestions. He is in close touch with farming interests in all parts of the county and it is probable that this office could arrange for a special display that would be of interest to agriculturalists and orchardists.

A barbecue has also been suggested as a feature for one day. In case this is arranged the visitors will be furnished one meal free of charge. The meal could be prepared at the city park or any other convenient place and would be an attractive feature in itself.

It is thought a number of agricultural meetings could be arranged for and speakers from Purdue and other places secured.

The merchants who have been interviewed regarding the proposed celebration believe that something of the kind should be held here and say they are of the opinion that plenty of novel entertainment could be secured without the expenditure of a great sum of money.

GIBSON ON STAND IN THE BELL TRIAL

Defendant Who Confessed Before Trial is Used as a Witness by the State.

STATES HE WAS GIVEN MONEY

Witness Says He Was Instructed to "Make a Showing" in the Vote at Primary.

By United Press Indianapolis, September 16.—The state in its prosecution of Mayor Joseph E. Bell for alleged election conspiracy faced and seemed to meet a crisis today. James (Bud) Gibson, its star witness, admitted under cross-examination that before a federal and a local grand jury prior to the one that returned this indictment he had testified that so far as he knew, Bell's hands were free of any fraud.

The state maintained that since Gibson's testimony vindicating Bell was in each instance given before he pleaded guilty to this indictment, it was the natural story of a man seeking to shield his fellow conspirator.

The state demonstrated that before Gibson went before the federal grand jury he had a long talk with Herman Adams, a city official who, according to Gibson's testimony, gave him $85 to buy votes. The state brought out that the deputy prosecutor who conducted the Marion county grand jury prior to the one that returned the indictment was the Ralph McCarty for whom Gibson "fixed" the primary at Bell's request, according to Gibson's testimony today.

On re-direct examination Gibson stated that for seven or eight months he had been on the pay roll of Mayor Bell without doing any work.

On cross-examination Gibson admitted he told the federal grand jury that he received no money from Mayor Bell or Herman Adams to buy votes; that he did not buy any votes and that he knew of no wrong acts by Bell at the primary, the registration or the election. He admitted that he told the Marion county grand jury before Prosecutor Rucker took office that the primaries were on the square and that Bell never gave him money.

Gibson admitted on cross-examination that he had "for eleven or twelve years" bought votes for Republicans. When asked whether he was paid for this he said, "Well, I had a regular job and it drew a salary."

Gibson first testified that Mayor Bell at 8 p. m. on the night of the primary asked him at the polls

MEDORA.
Mrs. Trautman of Cincinnati is visiting her son, Neal Trautman and family this week.
A number of people from Medora attended the Wallace-Hagenback show at Bedford Friday.
The Medora Chautauqua was a decided success in every particular. The local committee have been able to meet every obligation. Over five hundred tickets have been pledged for another year, and a contract for another year with the Community Chautauqua has been signed by fifty members of the local committee. All this means not only that we are assured of another Chautauqua, but that Medora is on the boom.
Rev. A. B. Condo returned this week from a visit with his wife, who has been ill for a few days at Columbus. He reports that she is much improved and was able to begin her school work Monday.
Miss Inez Howard of Lincoln, Indiana, is the new high school principal and teacher of Latin and domestic science. Miss Howard is a graduate of Kokomo high school, and of Indiana University, where she made Latin her major subject.
Hubert Owen is suffering this week from an acute attack of rheumatism, and was unable to begin his school work the first day. He expects to go to Martinsville for treatment.
The teachers' preliminary examination for Carr township was held last Saturday morning at the public school building. All the teachers were present and Supt. Thomas gave a talk on the course of study.
The Medora public schools opened Monday with a fuller attendance than ever before in the history of the school. The enrollment for the first day is as follows: Post graduates, 1; Seniors, 12; Juniors, 11; Sophomores, 13; Freshmen, 19; 8th year, 12; 7th year, 13; 6th year, 23; 5th year, 21; 4th year, 29; 3rd year, 30; 2nd year, 33; 1st year, 24. Total in high school 56, and in the grades 175. Others will enter during the next week which will probably bring the total up to almost 245. The increased attendance and school spirit of the patrons both of the town of Medora and of Carr township is very gratifying. Not a single pupil has been lost from last year while one hundred per cent of the eighth grade graduates from the Medora public schools of last year entered the high school this year. This is a record equalled by only one other city in the state. The faculty of the school has been strengthened this year by addition of another university graduate. Agriculture is offered to the boys of the first and second years of high school as well as to the seventh and eighth grades. Domestic Science is offered to the girls of the seventh and eighth grades and to the first and second years of high school. This class is larger than ever before. The first half of the year will be devoted largely to cooking and the last half to sewing. Some new equipment has been added to various laboratories, and all in all we believe we are about as well equipped at Medora to turn out high class students as any other town this size in the state.

Use Indiana Flour!

What Counts In Flour

Not what's in the name, but what's in the flour. Many flours are used simply because they are widely advertised. Indiana flour is used and should be used because of the genuine quality of the flour, because it contains higher food-value and a finer flavor, because it is easier to handle and means success in every kind of baking.

When you buy flour, look for the "Know Your Flour" label, your guarantee of purity and quality, your assurance of satisfaction.

FREE

You owe it to yourself and your family to use Indiana flour. When you order by phone, say "The best Indiana flour you carry—one with the 'Know Your Flour' label."

Get FREE this beautiful book, "Better Baking with Indiana Flour," with many splendid recipes. Ask for it from any mill located to use the "Know Your Flour" label.

Better Rolls with Indiana Flour

Try this recipe for Coffee Rolls: Work into a quart of dough, made according to bread recipe, a round tablespoonful of butter and 1/4 cup white sugar. Add some dry currants that have been thoroughly washed and re-dried in the oven. Sift a little Indiana flour and a little sugar over them and work into the other ingredients. Make into small rolls; dip in the melted butter. Place in baking tins. Let them rise for a short time and then bake in a moderately hot oven.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER, 16, 1915.

By maintaining a blockade, Great Britain has compelled Germany to supply her own needs and has prevented her from spending money abroad. Now British statesmen are beginning to question the wisdom of that policy and argue that it would injure Germany more if she were permitted to spend money abroad, thus depleting her own monetary resources. So far as the relative interests of Great Britain and Germany are concerned, the discussion is of no consequence to us, but it serves to emphasize the soundness of the principle of protection. Shutting out foreign goods and keeping money at home to pay home labor, is the secret of national prosperity. A protective wall accomplishes that end whether the wall be established by war or by a protective tariff.

The balance in the National Treasury on September 4th was $51,922,932, as compared with $130,038,890 on the corresponding date two years ago when Republican revenue laws and appropriations were in force. The deficit for the first two months of the present fiscal year amounted to $30,003,152.

THE MICAWBERS

Like Dicken's quaint character, too many business men are prone to sit around and "wait for something to turn up."

And when it does it not infrequently has the shape and semblance of bankruptcy proceedings.

Live business men make things turn up.

They recognize the value of thrive, and do.

They recognize the value of newspaper advertising.

They employ it as an effective weapon and grow and prosper.

LOGANSPOUT MAN HELD AS MURDER SUSPECT

Ellis Wood Will be Taken Before Grand Jury to Tell What He Knows of Crime.

By United Press.

Kokomo, Sept. 16—Sheriff Omer Brown, accompanied by Ralph Tudor, a local merchant and a newspaper man, went to Logansport today prepared to bring Ellis Wood to this city. It is presumed that Wood will be taken before the local grand jury, in session now, and asked to tell what he knows about the killing of Walter Collins of which he is suspected.

Mrs. J. H. Hogan, of Terre Haute, who has been visiting with relatives here and at Brownstown for the past week, returned to her home this afternoon.

Why's "Gets-It," for Corns, Like a Kiss?

Because Everybody Tries It, Everybody Likes It, It's Painless and Takes But a Moment to Apply.

"Gets-It" is the wonder of the corn-patched world. Millions say so, because millions have used it. That's what makes it the biggest selling

"Never in My Life Saw Anything Act So Quickly and Magically as 'Gets-It'!"

corn remedy on earth today. "Gets-It" will surely get that corn or callus you've been trying for a long time to get rid of—take it right off "clean as a whistle." Apply it in 2 seconds, put your stocking and shoe right over it—nothing to stick, nothing to hurt. You needn't fuss with thick bandages that make a package out of your toe. No knives, razors and scissors, no tape, no trouble. It's simplicity itself, sure, quick, painless. Try it also for bunions and warts.

"Gets-It" is sold at all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Seymour and recommended as the world's best corn remedy, by C. E. Loertz and H. H. Carter.

VALLONIA-BROWNSTOWN ROAD ABOUT FINISHED

Expected that Last of Concrete Would be Laid Today—Sides to be Graded.

It was expected that the second section of the Brownstown-Vallonia concrete highway would be completed late today. A representative of the contracting firm that was awarded the work was in the city Wednesday night and said that if the road was finished today it would be opened for traffic in about ten days. After the concrete is laid it will be necessary to grade the roadway along the sides to conform to the grade. The first section of the road was finished several weeks ago and is open to the public. This road accommodates a large amount of traffic and persons who have occasion to use it will be glad when it is again open.

THRILLING GETAWAY MADE BY FIRE DEPARTMENT

Hose and Ladder Wagon Driven Across Railroad Tracks in Front of Approaching Engine.

The fire department made a thrilling getaway this morning, the horses making a successful dash across the B. & O. Southwestern tracks in front of an approaching train, when a call was answered from the residence of George Moore, 507 North Ewing street. The engine was a short distance away when the wagon cleared the track.

Practically no damage was done by the flames which were seen on the roof of a shed at the rear of the residence. It is supposed the fire started from a spark.

EYESIGHT CAME BACK AS DEATH DREW NEAR.

Soldier Blinded in War, Saved From Hesperian, Relates Experiences.

The fact that Private Chambers, a blinded Canadian soldier, who was thrown into the water when one of the Hesperian lifeboats capsized, regained his eyesight as an effect of the shock of being pitched into the ocean, does not surprise London surgeons who attended him. His blindness, they say, was the result of wrecked nerves. When he was put in a hospital in April he was not wounded, but was a nervous wreck, absolutely blind and incapable of distinguishing darkness from light. Later he regained his perception of light, but no more.

Chambers was blown into a shell crater on hill 60. He staggered out blind. He heard a wounded man moaning and told him to get on his back and direct him toward the British lines. In this way both men reached safety. Chambers, unable to see, carrying on his back his wounded companion, who could not walk. He says that he was dozing on the Hesperian when the explosion occurred. He felt his way to deck and was put into a boat. Then he was plunged into the water, and when he came to the surface he saw the ship. In a moment somebody began to pull his heel and drag him under. He muttered to himself, he says, "Good God, to be drowned just as I am beginning to see!" Then he kicked hard and, freeing himself, swam to a lifeboat.

TEACHING HOME ECONOMICS.

$12,000,000 to Be Spent in Educating the Farmers' Wives.

In eight years $12,000,000 will have been spent to provide education in home economics for the farmers' wives as a result of the Smith-Lever act, according to C. B. Smith, in charge of this work in connection with the United States department of agriculture.

At the recent convention of the American Home Economics association, at the University of Washington, Mr. Smith said $10,000 had been appropriated for each state to be used in furthering this line of education. Provision is made for the annual increasing of the appropriation by the government and by individual states to bring the amount to the figure named.

"Congress evidently felt," declared Mr. Smith, "that enough had been done in making surveys, compiling statistics and sending out literature to the farmers and that the time had come to put into practice the things science taught."

"Last year water systems were installed in forty farm houses in one county in Michigan. This is but one of the many practical things we are doing. We find that the chief needs in the average farm home are more money (the average American farmer's income is but $1 per day), less drudgery and relief from the social isolation of farm life."

Just the Same.

"Did the doctor limit you to any particular diet?" "No, but his bill did."

FEDERAL AND STATE PRISON CO-OPERATION

Georgia Soon to Apply Honor System of Government to Negro Convicts.

By United Press.

Washington, September 16—Two new interesting and important features have been added to the history of the convict problem in the United States.

Actual co-operation between state and Federal authorities in the care and management of state convicts.

The application, on a large scale, of the honor system of government to negro convicts.

This work is about to be taken up by the authorities of Fulton County, Georgia, and the Office of Public Roads, of the Department of Agriculture. After a year's study of convict labor conditions throughout the country as applied to road building, J. E. Pennybacker, chief of the above division, and H. S. Fairbank, highway engineer, who will be in actual charge of the work, have completed plans for the establishment of a portable road-building camp within the next few weeks.

Unlike most convict camps, the buildings are to be constructed on the portable plan and models for use at exhibitions and country fairs have just been completed at the bureau. They are so arranged that the sides can be readily taken out and screens substituted and besides the bunk rooms there will be the kitchens, showers and a recreation room. The sanitary work has been planned by Passed Assistant Surgeon W. F. Draper of the Public Health Service and is patterned after the method employed in army camps.

There will be fifty convicts in the camp, who will do all the work of assembling the buildings and striking them whenever it is necessary to move. It is believed that one day will be sufficient to make or break camp, so carefully and ingeniously have the buildings been constructed.

Officials claim a three-fold merit for their program: first, it is beneficial mentally, morally and physically for the convicts; second, it saves the state money by the introduction of more scientific methods of convict labor and of road construction; and third, it helps the state and the country by turning out a greater number of miles of good roads every year than have been built heretofore.

Sunday School Conference.

The address by Rev. E. LeRoy Dakin at the quarterly conference of Sunday School workers next Tuesday evening promises to be of unusual interest. This conference will be held under the auspices of the First Baptist Sunday School and is the next in the series of excellent meetings that have been held during the last two years. Mr. Dakin is one of the best speakers in Indiana, and he has done an unusual bit of educational work in his church and Sunday School. His subject will be "How the Temple is tackling its educational task." All who are interested in Sunday School work and the public generally are invited to hear this address. An interesting program of special music has been arranged for the evening.

Red Sox, with Makeshift Team, Drop Third Straight Game at West Baden.

The Red Sox, or rather the portion of them that are playing the series at West Baden, dropped their third straight game to the Sprudels yesterday, the count this time being 8 to 5. Three pitchers were used by the locals in an effort to stem the hitting of the Sprudels, but all of them were hit hard, eleven safeties being collected from the trio of hurlers. The locals also batted Casey hard, securing eight safe drives, but errors in the sixth, combined with timely batting, gave the colored champs four runs and a lead which they maintained throughout.

to "take care" of Ralph McCarty, a candidate.

"Ralph was left off the slate through an oversight and I want you to take care of him," said Mayor Bell," Gibson testified.

Gibson said he went in where the tally sheets were being prepared and saw to it that McCarty got the long end of the vote.

Gibson testified that on election day Mayor Bell gave him $11 in $1 bills and that he put it in the pocket with the "other money used to buy votes." He said Michael Ryan, one of the chief attorneys for the defense in this case, was with Mayor Bell at the time.

Gibson was indicted with 127 others including Bell, Thomas Taggart, Chief of Police Perrott and many other politicians. He pleaded guilty to the conspiracy charge and has been considered the "big gun" in the state's batteries.

Gibson testified that on election day Herman Adams, city inspector of weights and measures, gave him $85 with the statement,

"I am going to hold you responsible for the vote. I'm not going to mix in it. You must make a showing."

Gibson said he paid from $1 to $2 for votes on election day.

Enthusiastic Meeting.

Local Republicans who attended the Sixth district meeting at Rushville, Wednesday, declare that it was one of the most enthusiastic political gatherings they ever attended. The crowd was variously estimated from seven to ten thousand people. All the candidates for the nomination for governor on the Republican ticket were present and many candidates for other officers were in attendance. The barbecue was a feature of the day, thirty quarters of beef being prepared for the crowd.

Mrs. Nancy Christy, who has been here on an extended visit with her brother, left this afternoon for her home in Sullivan, Ill.

History of Monday Musicales

By Mrs. Earl M. Cox.

Music, the greatest good that mortals know,

And all of heaven we have below.

—Addison

On Monday evening, Feb. 20, 1905, a number of ladies met at the home of Miss Sudie Mills (Matlock) to consider the possibility of organizing a music club. Those present were:

Mesdames Ida Montgomery, Emma Masters, Mary Shiel, Edith Pfaffenberger, Lillian Abele, Minnie Peter, Misses Katherine Cordes (Luckey), Louise Casey (Holderman), Grace Conner (Harris).

Realizing the future possibilities and influence of such an organization, the matter was taken up and discussed freely, with the result that preparations were at once begun towards effecting an organization.

The chief objects of this society are: First, to advance and promote the culture of musical art in Seymour; second, the mutual improvement of its members.

After the appointment of Mrs. Montgomery as chairman, the following officers were elected:

Miss Sudie Mills (Matlock), president.

Mrs. Masters, vice president.

Miss Casey (Holderman), treasurer. Mrs. Peter, secretary.

After much discussion and deliberation as to the title of the club, the name "Progressive Music Club" was finally decided upon.

On the evening of Feb. 27th the officers held their first business meeting at the home of Miss Mills (Matlock). The constitution and by-laws were drawn up and adopted, program made out for the first six months of the year, and final arrangements made for the first meeting which was held at the home of Miss Casey (Holderman) on Monday evening, April 3rd. A most excellent program with vocal and instrumental music was rendered and thoroughly enjoyed by those present. Much interest was aroused by the program presented at the second meeting, the same being an evening with Chopin.

On April 2nd the first open meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Masters. About sixty guests were present. The following program was rendered by the members of the club:

Rhapsodie No. 2.....Liszt
Mrs. Masters

Vocal Solo

Mrs. Reynolds
Foccatelle Op. 26.....Dupont
Miss Cordes (Luckey)

I Know a Bank.....Parker
Miss Fleniken (Gaylord)

Papillons.....Shuman
Mrs. Pfaffenberger

Paper.....Paderewski
Mrs. Shiel

Sonata Pathetique Op 13..Beethoven
Mrs. Peter

Vocal Solo.....Mrs. Abele
Second Uoeturne Op. 12..Leschetizky

Miss Casey (Holderman)

Chanson Hongorise.....Dupont
Miss Conner (Harris)

Ask What Thou Wilt.....DeKoven
Miss Huffman (Vogel)

The second annual open meeting was held in the Masonic Temple April 1st. The program was given by Mr. and Mrs. McGibney, of Indianapolis, consisting of violin solos by Mr. McGibney, vocal solos and musical monologues by Mrs. McGibney, which was thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of guests.

The third open meeting was also a rare treat to all music lovers of Seymour. Miss Schellschmidt, harpist, and Mrs. McClamrock, vocalist, both of Indianapolis, gave a delightfully varied program. This was held in the Presbyterian church.

In November, 1908 the first Artists' Recital was held in the opera house. The club was fortunate enough to secure the noted pianist, Mrs. Grace Hamilton Morrey, of Chicago, and the famous vocalist, Miss Virginia Shafer.

The following year, 1909, in November, the club secured another noted violinist and artist, Ludwig Becker, of New York. His name speaks for himself as he is known the world over. The following April the fourth annual open meeting was held in the Presbyterian church. Artists for the evening were Mrs. George Eckert, vocalist, and Miss Katherine Bauer, violinist.

In 1909 the artists who were secured were Miss Jennetta Carter, vocalist, Katherine Bauer, violinist, and Mrs. Henrietta Blakeman, pianist. Miss Paula Kipp accompanist.

In 1910, a delightful open meeting was held in the Elks' club rooms. Three talented young artists of the club, Misses Frieda Aufderheide, violinist, Marguerite Thompson (Groub), pianist, Hannah Mills (Bollinger), vocalist, with Mrs. Matlock and Mrs. Masters as accompanists, rendered a beautiful and artistic program.

Artists' Recital in 1910 was given by Miss Agnes Lapham, pianist, of Chicago, and Miss Flora Brettelle, vocalist, of Louisville. This was the last recital given under the name of the "Progressive Musical Club" as the name was changed to "Monday Musicales."

The next open meeting was held at the Presbyterian church on April 3, 1911. The program was given by Mr. Johannes Miersch, violinist, and Earl Bentell, pianist, of Indianapolis. The same year, in November, Miss Katherine Chaine, of Cincinnati, presented Longfellow's beautiful poem in a very artistic manner. She was assisted by Miss Alma Beck, who sang Indian interludes.

The following May Mr. Chas. F. Hansen gave a beautiful pipe-organ recital. Miss Hannah Mills (Bollinger) sang the oratorios. This was held in the Presbyterian church.

In May, 1913, in the Elks' club rooms, the members gave the following program:

Overture Zu Sakmatala...Goldmark
Mrs. Matlock, Mrs. Groub,
Mrs. Masters, Mrs. Sanders

The Cry of Rachel.....Salter
Miss Gasaway

Mazurka F Minor.....Leschetizky
Mrs. Brunow

The Soul of the Violin...M. Merril
Mrs. Cox

Liberstraum Mobile.....Ries
Miss Aufderheide

Frauhlingsranschen (Spring Song)
Sinding

Mrs. Groub
Pace, Pace, Mio Dio.....Verdi
Miss Mills (Bollinger)

Mare De Tannhauser.....Wagner
Mrs. Matlock, Mrs. Masters

Mrs. Groub, Mrs. Sanders

The last open meeting was held May 10 in the Elks' beautiful club rooms. Miss Irene St. Quentin rendered a Chopin and Leschetizky program with artistic skill. Miss St. Quentin, who was a pupil of Leschetizky for several years, is now head of the Conservatory of Music here.

Beside the miscellaneous study, the club, beginning in 1907, has studied German music and composers ranging from the early German music, continuing through Beethoven, Handel, Haydn and Mozart, Polish, Hungarian, Bohemian, Italian, Russian, Modern American and Modern German.

The study this year is the opera.

The following members have served as presidents of the Monday Musicales since its organization: Mesdames Sudie Mills Matlock, Emma Masters, Grace Harris, Catherine Voss, Edith Pfaffenberger, Marguerite Groub.

The present officers are: President, Mrs. Edna Bollinger; Vice President, Mrs. Catherine Voss; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Mayme Cox; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Mary Shiel; Treasurer, Mrs. Minnie Peter.

Members of the Program Committee are, Mrs. Marguerite Groub, Miss Frieda Aufderheide, Mrs. Edna Bollinger.

The following compose the membership:

Miss Frieda Aufderheide, Mrs. Edna Bollinger, Mrs. Mayme Cox, Miss Adelaide Gasaway, Miss Mary Gillespie, Mrs. Marguerite Groub, Miss Gladys Kyte, Mrs. Katie May Luckey, Mrs. Emma Masters, Mrs. Minnie Peter, Mrs. Edith Pfaffenberger, Mrs. Fanny Reynolds, Mrs. Edna Sanders, Mrs. Mary Shiel, Mrs. Lora Stewart, Miss Luella Toms, Mrs. Katherine Voss, Mrs. Gertrude Whitmer, Miss Effie White.

In Memoriam: Elsie Cordes, Nellie Crane.

The Monday Musicales has been instrumental in cultivating the finer sensibilities of the people of Seymour by securing the best artists possible. That the efforts of the club have been appreciated by the public is evidenced by their liberal patronage and generous attendance at the artists' recitals which have been mentioned.

WELL FLAVORED SIRUP FROM WATERMELONS

A new use for surplus watermelons has been found by specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture. With the aid of utensils found in every household a sirup can be easily extracted from the fruit and preserved in sterilized jars. This product will serve most of the purposes for which ordinary sirup is used in the home. It is reddish brown in color, very sweet and well flavored. It has been found especially satisfactory in the making of ginger cake, homemade candy and in sweetening and flavoring ice cream. The method recommended by the Department of Agriculture for the home manufacture of this product is as follows:

Remove the pink flesh and seeds from the rind of sweet, fully ripe melons. Crush the flesh with a potato masher or by running it through a meat chopper. Place the crushed pulp and seed in cloth bags, and squeeze out the juice, which flows out readily. About five-sixths of the pulp will squeeze out as juice. About 13 gallons of the juice will make one gallon of sirup. This amount of juice can ordinarily be secured from 10 watermelons weighing from 22 to 25 pounds each.

The juice is then boiled down into a sirup in an ordinary preserving kettle. The juice boils without much foaming until it begins to thicken, when the fire should be slackened to prevent foaming and burning. The red coloring matter in the juice coagulates during boiling and part of it rises to the surface where it can be removed by skimming. The remainder floats about in the juice forming red particles which gather near the top. Toward the last of the boiling the sirup must be watched constantly. If the housewife has a candy thermometer she should take the sirup from the fire as soon as it has reached a temperature of 220 degrees Fahrenheit, otherwise she should let it cook until a small sample on cooling is about as thick as maple sirup.

When the boiling has finished, the sirup can be set aside to cool in covered vessels or can be poured while hot into cans or glass containers and sealed.

Where a cider press is available, the melons can be cut into pieces and arranged on the press so that the pressure will extract the juice of the pulp before it presses the rind. The juice of the rind is not so rich in sugar, and experiments with rind juice alone indicate that it is not suitable for sirup.

If it is desired to make sirup free from red particles, start the sirup boiling and when some of the coagulated matter has been removed by skimming, transfer the juice to tall glass jars or other tall containers and allow to settle and cool for a few hours. This allows the red particles to settle to the bottom. The upper part of the juices can then be poured off and boiled into sirup.

"Diluted ammonia water or simple baking soda and water applied to a chigger bite will lessen the smarting very materially. ### INDIAN SAUCE.

One gallon chopped cabbage, one gallon chopped green tomatoes, one dozen green peppers, three tablespoons ground mustard, two tablespoons whole cloves, two tablespoons allspice, one gill mustard seed, one gill salt, one pound sugar, one half dozen large onions, ground and tied in a thin bag, five quarts vinegar. Put whole cloves and allspice into thin bags. Boil and stir one-half hour. Take out bags of spices and onion, and can.

STEAK ENCASSEROLE.

The steak is prepared with one and one-half pounds of round steak, two heaping tablespoons fat, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon white pepper, and one teaspoon kitchen bouquet and one onion sliced and browned. Sear the meat and put into a hot casserole. Add flour to the fat, and enough water to make a good smooth gravy. Stir the onion in to flavor. About an hour and a half is necessary for the cooking in a slow oven.

PINEAPPLE SALAD.

One can sliced pineapple, four bananas, one-half cup English walnut meats. Make a dressing from the juice of pineapples. Add one-half cup butter and one egg well beaten. When near to boiling add three-fourths cupful sugar and one tablespoonful flour, well mixed, and stir until well cooked. When cool, add one cupful whipped cream. Mix dressing, sliced bananas and nuts, and serve on slices of pineapple.

CREOLE SAUCE

Two tablespoons chopped onion, four tablespoons green pepper, finely chopped, two tablespoons butter, two tomatoes, one-fourth cup sliced mushrooms, six olives, stoned; one and one-half cups of brown sauce, salt and pepper.

Cook onion and pepper with butter five minutes, add tomatoes, mushrooms and olives and cook two minutes, then add brown sauce. Bring to boiling point. Serve with boiled beefsteak or filet of beef. Boiled rice should accompany the beef and be served on the same platter.

MARGARET MASON'S FASHION LETTER

(Written for the United Press.)

New York, Sept. 17.—We now all have this much in common with the bus conductors—well turned limbs are no treat to us. With skirts ever going a little bit higher we are fairly surfeited with displays of hosiery.

"An inch at a time soon makes nine" is the song of the skirt and just nine inches above the toe line is the proper fall length for this garment. What it lacks in length however it will more than make up in width. Six or seven yards round is the average circumference of the hem.

Just to bring a bit of brightness into the lives of all save the blind many skirts are lined with a vivid scarlet, green, blue or orange silk from the hem to the knee. This glimpse of color is very effective flaring out as milady strides up the avenue or steps lightly into her waiting car, be it trolley or Rolls Royce.

The same tint used for the skirt lining also faces up the inside of the long flaring bell sleeves and touches up the neck line and the pockets.

Everything seems to be striving for the higher life as the days grow shorter. The skirts and collars are climbing to ear tips and hats are going them better.

Some of the collars shown are nothing short of amazing. They are cut like deep flaring cuffs and stand up uniformly around the head. It may be an open secret that lovely woman has two legs to stand on but whether she has a mouth and a chin now remains a dark mystery thanks to these new collars. For the wom-

Around the Home

To remove grease spots from cotton or woolen fabrics use cold water and any pure soap. Either is always sure and safe to use also.

For buttered cracker crumbs allow from one-fourth to one-third cup of melted butter to each cup of crumbs. Stir lightly with a fork in mixing that crumbs may be evenly coated and light rather than compact.

To remove white spots from furniture, dip a cloth in hot water nearly to the boiling point. Place over spot, remove quickly and rub over spot with a dry cloth. Repeat if spot is not removed. Alcohol or camphor quickly applied may be used.

To remove fruit stains pour boiling water over stained surface having it fall from a distance of three feet. This is a much better way than dipping stains in and out of hot water. Another way is to wring articles out of cold water and hang out of doors on a frosty night.

To chop parsley, remove leaves from parsley. If it is wet, first dry in a towel. Gather parsley between thumb and fingers and press compactly. With a sharp vegetable knife cut through and through. Again gather in fingers and recut, so continuing until parsley is finely cut.

To keep an ice chest in good condition wash thoroughly once a week with cold or lukewarm water in which washing soda has been dissolved. If by chance anything is spilt in an ice chest it should be wiped off at once. Milk and butter very quickly absorb odors and if in an ice chest with other food they should be kept closely covered.

To keep a sink drain free from grease pour down once a week at night one-half can potash dissolved in one quart of water. Should sink drain chance to get choked pour in to sink one-fourth pound copersas dissolved in two quarts of water. If this is not efficacious repeat before sending for plumber.

Plenty of Styles in Hats to Please All the Women

There is much that is wonderfully attractive about the millinery of the moment, as regards both color and shape. So far as size is concerned, too, small and large hats bid fair to be equally popular, so that it should be an easy matter to find something becoming in the way of holiday headgear.

There is such a variety of style this year that it is quite easy for almost any woman to pick a becoming shape. Also the midsummer season is the time to pick up all sorts of bargains. It is possible for the girl who is going away on a late vacation to equip herself with quite wonderful headgear at a truly ridiculous price.

HURTY SAYS CHIGGERS DO NOT TRANSMIT DISEASE

State Health Commissioner Tells How Irritation from Bites May Be Stopped.

Chiggers and their bites are terribly annoying, but, so far as known, they do not transmit disease, according to Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner.

This statement from Dr. Hurty will ease the minds of several citizens of the state who have written to the state board of health to inquire if they are in danger of disease because of attacks by the pesky chigger.

"It is not known that chiggers carry disease," said Dr. Hurty in a statement issued yesterday; "but they do interest the individual they invade very materially; at least they attract his attention."

"Sometimes their bites are sufficiently irritating, and perhaps a sufficient poison goes with them, to cause slight fever. Violent scratching of the bite sometimes infects the place with pus germs. When the larvae of the chigger bores into human flesh he never comes to maturity, but dies in the flesh, overwhelmed by the richness of his human food.

"Diluted ammonia water or simple baking soda and water applied to a chigger bite will lessen the smarting very materially. A strong salt water or soap suds bath, when one has been intimately associated with chiggers, is a good thing. Chiggers also may be removed with a needle, as splinters are removed."

an who just won't stick her head into the noose of a choker collar the designers are offering concessions in the form of a collar open in front but jutting up all around the base of the brain and aural appendages behind.

All the fur collars on suits, gowns and coats are high and swathing as the pocket book will permit. Positively their only limits seem financial. What fur is left over from collars, cuffs and wide banding on the hems of the skirts is used to encircle the tops of the new high shoes.

Of a necessity to keep up with the skirt line the boots and shoes have had to come up in the world also and they are proportionately higher than last year's models.

The smart magpie effects of black kid or patent leather with pipings and buttons of white have bandings of white fur around the top. With her trotties thus embellished with the relic of a cat's ninth life the winsome wearer may well be designated as "pussy footed."

Bronze boots banded in skunk are simply stunning and a pair of pearl grey kid dress boots with chinchilla are exquisite. All white ones are also shown with the white fur tops for wear with the stunning white velours broad cloth suits deeply banded a la Pusse with wide bands of white fox.

Buttons or laces are a mere matter of personal fancy as to shoe fastenings this fall and winter. Both are equally good just as long as they know their proper place and keep it. No more straying from the middle front to side or back ways. Colored tops will still be worn in moderation but will often be developed in soft tinted kid than suede or cloth. Heels will be high French affairs and vamps are shorter.

As for hosiery, it is a perfect riot of color and design. One bronze pair not content with a pair of conservative clocks, one on each side, abolishes the side clocks and has three up the front. This timely style is sure to be striking.

Others are embroidered in contrasting shades and stripes, checks and dots are conspicuous details. Open works and lace effects are favored for evening wear as are metallic embroidered hose for wear with the metallic brocade gowns and gold and silver brocade slippers.

Plain sheer stockings of solid but gorgeous hues are favored for wear with the high shoes and often match up the linings of the skirts.

Oh, there's bound to be a lot of excitement on foot when the new fur trimmed boots and giddy hosiery gets in place.

INDIANA CENTENNIAL TO INFLUENCE CLUB WORK

Many literary clubs in the state have outlined programs for 1916 that are in keeping with the Indiana Centennial. The growth, organization and resources of the Hoosier state will receive practically all the attention of a number of organizations. The Centennial Commission hopes to secure the assistance of such organizations in carrying out its work.

CHAPTER X.

"Gentlemen, There is Your Empire!"

The seven quiet gentlemen who sat with Allison at his library table, followed the concluding flourish of his hand toward the map on the wall, and either nodded or blinked appreciatively. The red line on his map was complete now, a broad, straight line from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and to it were added, on either side, irregular, angling red lines like the legs of a centipede, the feeders of the various systems which were under control of the new Atlantic-Pacific railroad.

"That's a brilliant piece of engineering, Allison," observed huge Richard Haverman, by way of pleasant comment, and he glanced admiringly at Allison after his eye had roved around the little company of notables. The feat of bringing these seven men together at a specific hour was greater than having consolidated the brilliant new Atlantic-Pacific railroad.

"Let's get to the details," barked a voice with the volume of a St. Bernard. It came from Arthur Grandin, the head of the Union Fuel company, which controlled all the wood and coal in the United States, and all the oil in the world. His bald spot came exactly on a level with the back of his chair, and he wore a fierce mustache.

"I'm putting in the Atlantic-Pacific as my share of the pool, gentlemen," explained Allison. "My project, as I have told you, is to make this the main trunk, the vertebrae as it were, of the International Transportation company. I have consolidated with the A.P. the Municipal Transportation company, and I have put my entire fortune in it, to lay it on the table absolutely unencumbered."

He threw down the Atlantic-Pacific railroad and the Municipal Transportation company in the form of a one-sheet typewritten paper.

"We'd better appoint someone to look after the legal end of things," suggested the towering Haverman, whose careless, lounging attitude contrasted oddly with his dignified long beard.

"I'll take care of it," said W. T. Chisholm.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow." But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from crabs, humble May apple, or its root, which has been called "vegetable calomel" because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel. This is a prescription. There is no habit-forming constituent in "Santalene" tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless, vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Santalene tablets, which may be procured from any druggist, are a dime's worth, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Santalene tablets"—that's the name—and entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Santalene tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

"They say that the advent of the 'Santalene' tablet as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives. Santalene tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the 'catarrhal habit.' Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of Santalene tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found. Druggists Review."

holm of the Majestic Trust company, and drawing the statement in front of him, he set a paperweight on it.

"The first step is not one of incorporation," went on Allison. "Before that is done there must be but one railroad system in the United States."

Smooth-shaven old Joseph G. Clark nodded his head. There was but one cereal company in the United States, and the Standard, in the beginning, had been the smallest. Two of the heads of rival concerns were now in Clark's employ, one was a pauper, and three were dead. He disliked the pauper.

Robert E. Taylor of the American Textiles company, a man who had quite disproved the theory that constructive business genius was confined to the North, smoothed his gray mustache reflectively, with the tip of his middle finger, all the way out to its long point.

"I can see where you will tear up the east and west traffic situation to a considerable extent," he thoughtfully commented; "but without the important north and south main trunks you cannot make a tight web."

Allison went over to his wall map, with a step in which there was the spring of a boy. A. L. Vance of the United States Supplies company, which controlled beef, sugar and practically all other food products, except those mighty necessities under the ways of the Standard Cereal company and Eldridge Babbitt's National Dairy Products consolidation, studied the buoyant Allison with a puzzled expression. He had seen Allison grow to care-burdened manhood, and suddenly he seemed twenty years younger. Only Eldridge Babbitt knew the secret of this miraculous rejuvenescence. Babbitt had married late in life; a beautiful young woman!

"The key to the north and south situation is here," said Allison, and he drew a firm, swift, green line down across the United States, branching at each end. "George Dalrymple will be here in half an hour, and by that time I trust we may come to some agreement."

"It depends on what you want," boomed Arthur Grandin, who, sitting beside the immense Haverman, looked as if that giant had shrunk him by his mere proximity.

"Freight, to begin with," stated Allison, resuming his place at the head of the table, but not his seat. "You gentlemen represent the largest freightage interests in the United States. You all know your relative products, and yet, in order to grasp this situation completely, I wish to enumerate them. Babbitt's National Dairy Products consolidation can swing the shipment of every ounce of butter, cream, cheese, eggs and poultry handled in this country; Clark's Standard Cereal company, wheat, corn, oats, rice, barley, malt, flour, every ounce of breadstuffs or cereal goods, grown on American soil; Haverman, the Amalgamated Metals Constructive company, every pound of iron, lead and copper, and every ton of ore, from the moment it leaves the ground until it appears as an iron web in a city sky or spans a river; Grandin, the Union Fuel company, coal and wood, from Alaska to Pennsylvania, with oil and all its enormous by-products; Taylor, the American Textiles company, wool, cotton, flax, the raw and finished material of every thread of clothing we wear, or any other textile fabric we use except silks; Vance, the United States Supplies company, meat, sugar, fruit, the main blood and sinew builders of the country. Gentlemen, give me the freightage controlled by your six companies, and I'll toss the rest of the country's freightage to a beggar."

"You forgot Chisholm," Babbitt reminded him, and Banker Chisholm's white mutton-chops turned pink from the appreciation which glowed in his ruddy-veined face.

"Allison was quite right," returned big Haverman with a dry smile. "The freightage income on money is an item scarcely worth considering."

"Give the Atlantic-Pacific this freight, and, inside of two years, the entire business of the United States, with all its ramifications, will be merged in one management, and that management ours. We shall not need to absorb, nor purchase, a single railroad until it is bankrupt."

"Sensible idea, Allison," approved Clark of the Standard Cereal company. "It's a logical proposition which I had in mind years ago."

"Allison's stroke of genius, it seems to me, consists in getting us together," smiled Haverman, hanging his arm over the back of his chair.

Banker Chisholm leaned forward on the table, and stroked his round chin reflectively. "There would be some disorganization, and perhaps financial disorder, in the first two years," he considered; "but the railroads are already harassed too much by the government to thrive under competition, and, in the end, I believe this proposed centralization would be the best thing for the interests of the country;" wherein Chisholm displayed that he was a vestryman of Market Square church wherever he went.

"What is your proposition?" asked Grandin, who, because of the self-assertion necessitated by his diminutive size, seemed pompous, but was not. No pompous man could have merged the wood, coal and oil interests, and, having merged them, swung them over his own shoulder.

Allison's answer consisted of one word.

"Consolidation," he said.

There was a moment of silence, while these men absorbed that simple idea, and glanced speculatively, not at Allison, but at each other. They were kings, these heads of mighty corporations, whose emissaries carried their sovereignties into the farthest corners of the earth. Like friendly kings, they had helped each other in the protection of their several domains; but this was another matter.

DISAVOWAL MUST BE MADE IN ARABIC CASE

United States Will Insist on This as Only Condition for Continuance of Relations.

By United Press.

Washington, September 16.—Ambassador Bernstorff's "complete understanding" with Secretary Lansing is merely an understanding that the United States will insist on a disavowal of the torpedoing of the Arabic as the only condition upon which diplomatic intercourse will continue.

This was the White House interpretation today to Bernstorff's "complete understanding" interview in New York forecasting a settlement of all German-American difficulties and the establishment of more friendly relations than ever before.

RADICAL CHANGE IN TYPE OF SUBMARINE TO BE MADE

Electrical Propulsion will be Used Exclusively by U. S., it is Believed.

By Bond P. Geddes, United Press Staff Correspondent.

Washington, September 16.—Radical changes in the type of new submarines to be built for Uncle Sam's navy are being worked out by the chief naval constructor. Navy officials admitted today that some new wrinkles in submersibles probably would be adopted when Congress authorizes the proposed new fleet of undersea craft which will represent the latest thought in such construction.

Special attention is being given, Secretary Daniels states, to the question of submarine construction. A corps of experts, at home and abroad, are collecting information to be assimilated in the next new United States submarine.

Electrical propulsion is the latest in submarines, according to the present determination of the naval constructors. It is probable that electric motors may be used exclusively in the future. Naval authorities also contemplate divesting the present fleet of submarines of gas engines and substituting electric power.

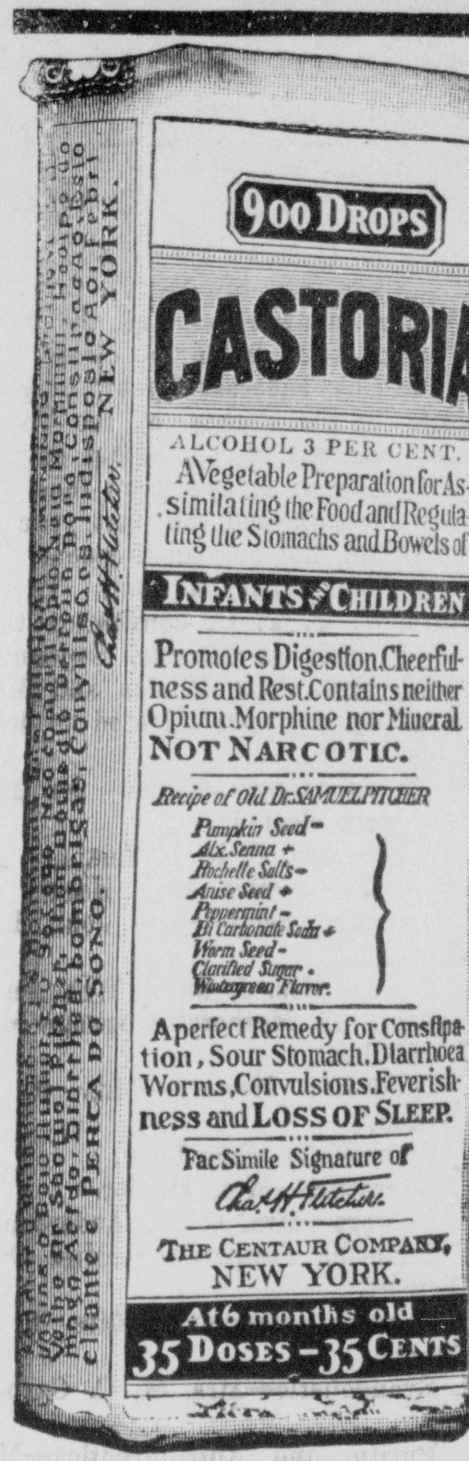

One difficulty in the way of United States naval progress in building submarines is the "patent monopoly" which confines this government to one type of submersible. This is the Lake type. While other types with some most desirable features are being built, Secretary Daniels says the government never has been able to reach satisfactory term with patentees of other submarines than the Lake variety. Negotiations are in progress, however, by which the government may be able to adopt some of the more desirable features of other patterns.

The government would not be barred from using the other submarine patents in case the United States became involved in war, however, according to Secretary Daniels. He admitted that the government would not hesitate to appropriate the submarine patents and use them in building its own submarines in time of war. Compensation would be given the patentees, of course, or they could resort to the courts—but after the government had received the benefit of submersible patents. The government, according to Secretary Daniels, would not hesitate to adopt such a policy, as a matter of defense in a time of national peril, without regard to the contract and patent rights of patentees.

Secretary Daniels hopes that Congress will eventually authorize construction by the government itself of all of its submarines. It is now building some on the Pacific Coast, the only government plant at present equipped for submarine construction. There are of the oil burning type.

"Speeding up" private contractors on government submarine contracts is another innovation promised by the Secretary. He will insist that contracts given private concerns stipulate quicker delivery. The Secretary believes that in the past contractors have been slow about completing the government craft. He cites the instance of the ill-fated F-4, which sank last March outside Honolulu harbor. This boat was only two years old, having been commissioned in 1913, but five years elapsed before Congress authorized her construction and the date, in 1913, when she was delivered to the navy.

On the other hand, the Fore River Construction Co., of Massachusetts, has just completed ten electric submersibles for one of the allies in the record time of eight months. They were ordered in January and are now lying, finished, in the ship yards at Quincy, Mass. By agreement with Charles M. Schwab, who took the order for one of the allies, the boats will be held in American waters until after the war.

Real Boyhood and Small Towns.

"Really to portray boyhood," says a writer in Cartoons Magazine, "one should have been brought up in a small town."

"It is only in a small town that one can fly kites successfully. Here, too, are backyard paradises, often with possibilities in buried treasure. Here one can operate tin-can-and-string telephone systems, or navigate a raft during the spring floods. It is in the small town that circuses are heralded by pink handbills and gorgeous posters on the wagon sheds and billboards, and are seen finally in all their glory of street parades and pink lemonade. Here the small boy has an opportunity of carrying water to the elephant, or lacking that, at least to sneak in under the flaps of the tent—a practice that the writer, however, doesn't encourage. Here is situated the beloved district school, which every great man in America has attended, and which is one of our very greatest institutions. He who has not had to speak pieces at the graduating exercises, or he who has not known the delights of a school picnic, has missed something in his life that he can never realize."

Mrs. H. T. Bennett went to Mitchell this afternoon on account of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Elgin Marsh.

This is the Stove Polish YOU Should Use

IT'S different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware and grocery dealers.

All we ask in trial. Use it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your coal range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish. Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works
Sterling, Illinois

Use Black Silk Air-Drying Iron Enamel on grates, registers, stove-pipes—prevents rusting. Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silver, nickel or brass. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

KLEFFMAN-MOORMAN.

The marriage of Mr. Alfred Moorman and Miss Mary Kleffman, both prominent and popular young people of Hamilton township, was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at Boreher's church, near Waymansville, the Rev. Mr. Zimmerman, of Dudleytown, pronouncing the ceremony. The wedding followed the custom of the Colonial and George Washington period, the bride and groom, with their attendants, riding on horseback to the church, with their horses decorated with the national colors, as was also the church. An enormous crowd was present at the church for the ceremony and after the words had been pronounced the wedding party proceeded to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Kleffman, where a bounteous dinner was served. The young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends in their community.

Mrs. Wells will have charge of the topic which is: "Speak Lord, for Thy Servant Heareth; Service with Life," with Mrs. Fred Raymond as leader. The program is as follows:

Bible Study: "Children of the Bible, Saul of Tarsus," by Mrs. Fred Kasper.
United Mission Studies: "The Child in the Midst," by Mrs. Ray R. Keach.
"In Red Man's Land," by Mrs. Harry Bobb.
Reading: "Indiana," ....Miss Grace Love.

The program will be concluded with a special song by Mrs. Ray Keach.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who care to attend.

FRIDAY MAGAZINE CLUB.

Mrs. W. F. Pfaffenberger will be hostess to the first meeting of the Friday Magazine Club this fall on Friday, September 24. The new officers who will take their places at that time are:

President...Mrs. Edith Pfaffenberger
Vice President...Mrs. Lillian Hagan
Secretary...Mrs. Ola Shields
Treasurer...Mrs. Laura Swope

At the first meeting an address by the retiring president, Mrs. Anna Bollinger, will be followed by an address by the new president.

INDIANA STUDY CLUB.

The first meeting of the Indiana Study Club since the summer vacation was held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. J. Barbour, on North Chestnut street. An interesting program of carefully prepared papers was given.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Robert Brunow of four years old today and celebrated the event this afternoon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brunow, South Chestnut street. Twenty of his little friends were present and enjoyed the various amusements arranged for them. The dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served, was decorated with garden flowers and in the center of the dining table rested a large birthday cake with four lighted candles.

Robert is quite a favorite with his playmates and enjoyed the afternoon with them.

RECEPTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knoke, Sr., will entertain a company of relatives and friends this evening at a reception in honor of their son, Fred Knoke, Jr., and wife, who were married Wednesday afternoon at Browns-town.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the German M. E. church held its regular meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Schleter, west of the city. The usual program was given and was very interesting.

TUESDAY CLUB.

The Tuesday Club will open its study for the winter on the afternoon of October 5 with a meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna C. Brown.

ALL DAY MEETING.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church will hold an all-day meeting Friday at the church.

DAN CUPID ON JOB DURING LAST FEW DAYS

Five Couples Fall Victim to Arrows of Well Known Archer, and Secure Licenses to Wed.

Dan Cupid, the well known artist of bow and arrow fame, has been getting in some effective shots during these long September evenings, according to reports from the county clerk's office, where no less than five licenses were issued yesterday afternoon, which is probably a record day's business for Clark Stout and his force.

The eminent archer has been rather unkindful of the age of his victims, it seems, since in yesterday's list the ages vary from 18 to 78, which only goes to prove what was probably an already well established fact, namely, that Mr. Cupid can hit the target from almost any angle or distance.

A peculiar coincidence in yesterday's rush at the clerk's office was the fact that a mother and her son were among those who were seeking the necessary document.

Henry Heller, 78, was granted a license to marry Mrs. Rachel McNeice, 63, both of Salt Creek township and Mrs. McNeice's son, John Hays, was granted a license to wed Miss Carrie Findley, of Hamilton township. Mr. Hays and Miss Findley were married Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the Methodist church, by Rev. C. N. Wilson, pastor of the church, and Mr. Heller and Mrs. McNeice were to be married this afternoon.

Others to be granted licenses yesterday were Fred T. Knoke and Miss Beatrice Hauenschild of this city, Samuel Jones and Miss Gertrude Tidd of this city, and Lee Childers and Miss Luna Starr, of Grassfork township.

HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT SHOWS TOTAL OF 420 STUDENTS

Gain of 41 Over Last Year's Enrollment is Shown in Statistics of First Week.

According to figures given out by Supt. Mott today the high school shows an enrollment of 420, which is an increase of 41 over the first week of last year, when the enrollment was 379. The total includes both the Junior and Senior high schools, the Junior students numbering 168 and the Senior students 252. The enrollment by classes is as follows: Junior high school, seventh grade, 101; eighth grade, 67. Senior high school, first year 85; second year 72; third year 54 and fourth year 41.

All classes have been organized and are down to hard work, with the schedule working as smoothly as though school had been in session all summer. Many of the classes are crowded, and the need of more room is being felt in several departments, but the situation is not expected to become serious enough soon to interfere with the effective work that is being and has been done in the local schools.

With the opening week comes the first signs of class rivalries, which seem so necessary to the mind of the average high school student, and there have been several indications of the presence of such spirit this year. Interclass games, contests, etc., will give further opportunity for the manifestation of this quite natural and quite normal spirit.

Shave and neck shave 10c; hair cutting 20c; scissors sharpened also. Sprenger's Barber Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. John Knowling have gone to Indianapolis to spend a week with relatives.

Horace White Sustains Slight Injury to Right Hand While Working at Local Factory.

The injury of Horace White, who sustained two mashed fingers on his right hand while working at his employment at the Seymour Manufacturing Company, is the first accident to come under the Workmen's Compensation Act in this city. White's injury is not serious but it will be several days before he can resume his work and it had to be reported to the commission.

There is quite a good deal of "red tape" to be followed in reporting any accident. The law requires it to be reported at once to the commission. He must also file a statement with the company that employs him. The law provides that all injuries which require an employee to remain off duty for more than one day must be reported. The employer is held liable for the physician's fee and hospital expense for the first thirty days and after the fifteenth day the employee receives fifty-five per cent. of his wages. It is also stated that no wage shall be less than $10 per week.
